

Employee Training

We're on the same team when it comes to keeping your employees safe.

We know that you wear a lot of different hats in your role serving the public. Sometimes your risk management goals can be pushed to the backburner by your day-to-day operational demands. That's why VAcorp provides dedicated Risk Control staff to partner with you in achieving your risk management objectives.

Our solution

Our Risk Control Consultants work directly with our members to help them identify and control the various exposures that threaten their organizations. These Consultants interact with members in a variety of ways - from conducting on-site safety walkthroughs to reviewing or creating risk management policies and procedures - but much of their time is spent facilitating employee training for our members.

While we offer a variety of training formats including streaming videos, live and pre-recorded webinars, the bulk of our training is carried out in-person at our members' locations. Our in-person training is created in-house by our Risk Control staff specifically for our member base and customized for each individual member.
